The Kentucky Arts Council (KAC) will provide _____ (hereafter referred to as "participant") with marketing and promotional assistance for products made with processes and materials, and in styles approved by the Kentucky Crafted panel through the jurying process detailed in the program's guidelines. This assistance will include:

- Opportunities to participate as an exhibitor at Kentucky Crafted: The Market.
- Opportunities to exhibit at other shows and venues as arranged by the arts council.
- Opportunity for representation in the Kentucky Crafted Online Directory on the arts council website.
- Permission to use the Kentucky Crafted logo on tags, displays and promotional items associated with juried work.
- Eligibility to apply for assistance through the Kentucky Peer Advisory Network (KPAN).
- Inclusion in listings and referrals to buyers, shops, galleries, show organizers, state agencies and the media.
- Eligibility to participate in any additional projects or initiatives that are open to adjudicated artists of the arts council.

In order to maintain eligibility for the Kentucky Crafted Program, participant must remain a full-time resident of the state of Kentucky and must continue to actively create and market the type of work that was successfully juried into the program.

In order to maintain eligibility, participant agrees to do the following:

- Upon request, complete a data sheet or similar report in a timely manner once per year.
- Upon request, provide the information and items needed for promotional activities (e.g., bio, digital images, etc.)
- Behave in a business-like and professional manner during Kentucky Crafted events, other events hosted by the arts council and when responding to leads generated by the program.
- Comply with all rules for participating in specific exhibits and events.
- Include proper acknowledgement of the arts council when using the Kentucky Crafted logo.
- Inform your legislators of your inclusion in this program and follow up with invitations to events that feature your work.

Failure to maintain eligibility will result in removal from the Kentucky Crafted Program's active roster.
